I absolutely adore my great-grandmother. Most elderly people cower in the face of other people's opinion but not her. She does not (16) back down easily unlike other old people I have met. Nevertheless, she knows when not to (17) prolong an argument.

I think sometimes people bully elderly relatives in a nasty way. Many of those we know dismissed Great-grandmother as a (18) belligerent old lady, not quite right in her head, especially now that she is nearly ninety. They gossip about her when they think I am not listening.

"Grandma! You're so stubborn!" Mum complains, exasperated. "If you are not careful, the community will disown you!"

"Oh well, why I should care at my age?" Great-grandmother says (19) dismissively. She lifts her eyebrows with a kind of disdain.

I love that she is so rebellious! How I wish I dared to be as rebellious. Sometimes I feel Mum keeps me in a cage. She is overly careful. I feel (20) I only come alive when I am with Great-grandmother. So I look forward to her weekly visits to my home!

Have Fun and Get Fit

By Vincent Cheong

Although we know that we should adopt healthier lifestyles, many of us drag our feet over taking up a sport. Some are too difficult, and some are too strenuous. Why not give badminton a try? No matter what your level of skill or fitness is or how old you are, it is a physical activity that everyone can enjoy! To get started, all you and a partner need are the basic tools of the game: shuttlecocks and rackets. Just hit a shuttlecock to each other for as long as possible without letting it touch the ground!

Why choose badminton?

- ✓ Strengthens your heart, bones and muscles
- ✓ Stimulates mental activity
- ✓ Creates opportunities for interaction and bonding
- ✓ Requires simple or inexpensive equipment

"Last year, my best friend, Alvin, was keen to attend the badminton lessons provided by Ace Mobile Badminton School and persuaded me to join him. I was hesitant at first because I had never been good at sports. Thankfully, our coach was patient, and I grew confident after learning to take different kinds of shots, such as smashes and drops.

When I was selected for my school badminton team this year, I was astonished. Alvin told our coach the news, and we had a little celebration after our lesson that day. I could see that she was very proud of me. I'm glad Alvin had talked me into signing up!"

~ Jason Lim, a Primary 5 student

Please note that the passage for Comprehension questions 71 to 80 in Booklet B is on the next page. You may now go on to Booklet B.

END OF BOOKLET A

Refer to the passage below when you answer questions 71 to 80 in Booklet B. (20 marks)

I remember when I was eleven, I looked out of the window of our flat in Johor and gazed longingly at a new Toyota parked on the street. It belonged to the Tans next door. I asked my mother, "Why don't we own a car?" Mother smiled reassuringly, "We have you, your siblings and this house. We should be happy with what we have." I was too young to understand the financial struggles Mother and Father faced. All I could see was that we did not have a car. Owning one would have made me happier.

While my classmates came to school in their shiny cars, Father would drop me off in his old bicycle before heading to work. Despite the rusty backseat that often left red marks on my thighs, I treasured these private moments with Father. Holding on to his waist tightly as it went up and down bumpy roads during our daily commutes, he and I would have animated conversations about what was happening in school and sing our favourite songs together. After returning from work in the evenings, Father would take my siblings for joy rides around the neighbourhood in our makeshift car.

10

Our neighbours kindly offered to give us a lift, but Mother insisted that we commute on our own. "Let's not trouble people," she often reminded us. So we did a lot of walking. Fortunately, school was nearby. On weekends, to get to the shopping mall, we walked almost a kilometre to the nearest bus stop. Clad in our best, my siblings and I would chatter loudly in the bus.

Years passed and we commuted everywhere by bus, train and taxi. We could not believe our luck when the government built a train station just a stone's throw away from our house. We were thrilled beyond description with the convenience of the station almost at our doorstep. Furthermore, we could go to any place we wanted as the train travelled all around Johor from there. It felt like we owned our very own Toyota. Although train travel got easier, the bus remained our favourite option. We enjoyed bantering with one another, feeling the wind caress our faces and watching pedestrians, shopping malls and houses rush past in a blur.

Every Christmas, we visited our grandparents in Selangor. It was a long and arduous journey. We took three different buses to get to the old rubber estate where our grandparents lived. Unperturbed by the journey, we looked forward to the familiar scent of the rubber plantations that assailed our senses. We could hardly contain our excitement knowing that our destination was around the corner. Despite our parents' constant reminders to be careful when we stuck our heads out, we eagerly looked out for our cousins who also waited in anticipation for us at the old bus stop. A joyous time of merriment awaited us as we looked forward to the many games we planned on playing with them. Though we did not have many luxuries, I had a happy childhood filled with wonderful memories.	35

Time flew by and my life took a turn for the better when a university in Sabah accepted me. I was on cloud nine. However, I had never been away from my family. The prospect of a two-hour plane ride all alone had my stomach in knots. After settling down in my new apartment, I called Mother to talk to her. It was so comforting listening to her share about everyone back home. It brought back fond memories. How much I missed them. Before we ended the call, she uttered, "Your sister is planning to get a car," she said. "A Toyota." I smiled as I recalled my childhood desire. Suddenly, a realisation dawned on me - owning that elusive car did not seem to matter anymore.	40

Jellyfish have been around for millions of years, even before dinosaurs lived on Earth. There are more than 2000 different types (29) _____ jellyfish around the world. Found along ocean currents, (30) _____ jelly-like creatures have no brains, hearts, bones or eyes. Some jellyfish are clear (31) _____ others come in vibrant colours of pink, yellow, blue and purple. Jellyfish are made up of smooth bag-like bodies and tentacles. They use their tentacles to stun or paralyse their prey (32) _____ gobbling them up.

Jellyfish eat as well as discard waste through (33) _____ mouths which are found at the centre of their bodies. They must digest their food, (34) _____ consists of fish, shrimp, crabs and tiny plants very quickly. (35) _____ they do not do so, they will not be able to float as they will be weighed (36) _____ by the large undigested food in their bodies.

In (37) _____ cultures around the world, people consume jellyfish. In China, they are considered a delicacy and are also used in Chinese medicine. Even though these magnificent marine creatures (38) _____ not deliberately attack humans, they do sting people when provoked. Their stings can be painful to humans and sometimes even deadly.

Can we do without plastic bags in our daily lives? Plastic bags are so cheap to produce that they can be found everywhere. Though most plastic bags are reused in many ways, (51) _____ pose serious environmental damage to the health of living things.

Of late, people have begun to recognise the negative effects of plastic bags on the (52) _____. The major impact of plastic bags on the environment is that it takes many years for them to decompose. As they decompose, tiny toxic bits of harmful chemicals seep (53) _____ the soil and are washed into lakes and oceans.

A journalist from a popular news channel reported that approximately 2 million plastic bags are used (54) _____ day in supermarkets alone. To combat the root cause of excessive (55) _____ of plastic bags in Singapore, many retailers have started to charge for every bag used. This practice hopes to encourage people to be more mindful of how they use plastic bags and build environmentally-friendly habits.

(56) _____ 2019, NTUC FairPrice has been charging a fee of 20 cents for each bag while international retailers such (57) _____ IKEA have stopped the use of plastic bags. Instead, they encourage shoppers to use their own bags or (58) _____ them a dollar for every reusable bag. Bringing (59) _____ own reusable bags is a simple way for shoppers to reduce the use of plastic bags.

(60) _____ to reports from World Wide Fund For Nature (WWF), Singapore saw a significant reduction in the use of these bags, with more (61) _____ 300,000 bags saved on a monthly basis after the plastic bag fee came into (62) _____ in the country. This is an important step taken to reduce the excessive use of plastics.

Although plastic bags have become a part and (63) _____ of our lives, we must be conscious of the use of products made of (64) _____. We should seek to reduce waste and lead an eco-friendly lifestyle. It is important to know that our actions make a (65) _____ and determine the future of our planet. As such, we must be responsible in protecting it.
